FROM THE DESK OF MARTIN D. WEISS, PH.D.
EDITOR IN CHIEF, SAFE MONEY REPORT

Dear Investor,

The information revealed in this independent research report is at once startling, controversial, even frightening... But that's precisely what makes it so incredibly valuable to you...

As early as 2001, Wall Street fat cats were ridiculing Larry Edelson when he predicted that oil – which was selling for a mere $17 per barrel – was destined to more than TRIPLE to $60...

And they laughed out loud when Larry begged, even pleaded, with anyone who'd listen to fill their portfolios with the stocks of select energy companies – and promised that those stocks would double and double again in the years ahead...

But the laughing stopped when oil prices doubled to $34 a barrel... and doubled again to $68.

And you could have heard a pin drop when Larry's energy stocks left the lethargic Dow, S&P 500 and Nasdaq in the dust.

Now, he's uncovered three obscure oil companies with oil reserves that are grossly undervalued, allowing you to invest in crude oil for as little as 15 cents on the dollar. His goal: To help you quadruple your money even if oil prices languish.

Plus, he reveals four surprising reasons why he's convinced a new, even more dramatic phase of the great oil boom has only just begun... and why oil prices are about to double yet again.

Please read the report right away. The energy markets could spike again any day now. Get the facts you need to capitalize on what promises to be one of the most breathtaking profit opportunities of our lifetimes.

Sincerely,

Martin D. Weiss

P.S. I've made special arrangements with Larry to release 4 more incredible reports, at absolutely no cost to you, that will help you to quickly cement short term gains of 51%... 76%... as much as 96.3% from these locked in mega trends, but you must act now!

Three ways to invest in oil DIRT CHEAP: As little as 15 cents on the dollar!

Dear Investor,

Big oil companies are swimming in an ocean of cash — and they're doing what ALL companies do when they hit a huge cash jackpot: They're hungrily eyeing a select handful of smaller companies as takeover targets!

I don't have to tell you what that means: Once a company is in play, the bidding war begins — and the share price of that company typically skyrockets.

Result: I believe that gives us the ultimate opportunity to rake in huge windfall profits — over and over again in the months ahead as energy prices continue to soar.

Heck, even in the unlikely event that I'm wrong about oil prices, merger mania in the oil patch could still multiply your money — provided you've got a stake in the right targets.

Those who get in early, and understand how to trade the wave stand to potentially make a LOT of money. But I've got to tell you — scores of investors are going to be disappointed because they own or buy the WRONG energy stocks.

These people plough their hard-earned money into just about any oil and gas stock that comes along, and they figure they'll automatically make money hand over fist.

But that's not how the energy markets work. Oil is a lot like mining, which I also know very well. There are plenty of pitfalls to avoid.

I'm talking about companies that always sell their future production ahead of time — at today's prices. No matter how high prices go, you don't make more money because they've already cashed out at lower prices...

important facts you need to know...

Washington and Wall Street Are Wrong, Wrong, WRONG about Oil!

Last weekend, I tuned into one of those investment shows on cable TV... only to hear a panel of self-proclaimed experts agreeing that oil prices have "topped out."

Why? "It's simple," they said. "When oil gets this high, American consumers begin conserving oil and gas. So prices fall."

I couldn't believe my ears! Not one of them even mentioned three glaring, but apparently "inconvenient" facts:

Fact #1. The demand explosion that's driving oil prices through the roof isn't coming from the United States! So there's NO WAY domestic conservation could lower prices from today's levels.

Fact #2. The monumental new demand that's driving oil prices into the stratosphere is from China and India — two nations whose combined population is over EIGHT TIMES

Please Turn...

LARGER than ours, and whose economies are growing TWO TO THREE TIMES FASTER!

Fact #3. American consumers have NOT even begun to conserve oil and gas. They're STILL using more and more each day.

And so I changed channels — only to see an administration spokesperson vowing, “The worst is over. Oil prices have peaked and will decline for the rest of 2006.”

ABSOLUTE POPPYCOCK!

You have to ask yourself: Why are Washington and Wall Street cranking up their PR machines and doing their dead-level best to convince consumers and investors that oil prices will fall?

My answer: Because if investors knew how high oil prices are likely to go in the months ahead, the rest of the stock market would crash and burn. And if voters had any idea of what's in store, they'd throw the scoundrels out of office in a heartbeat!

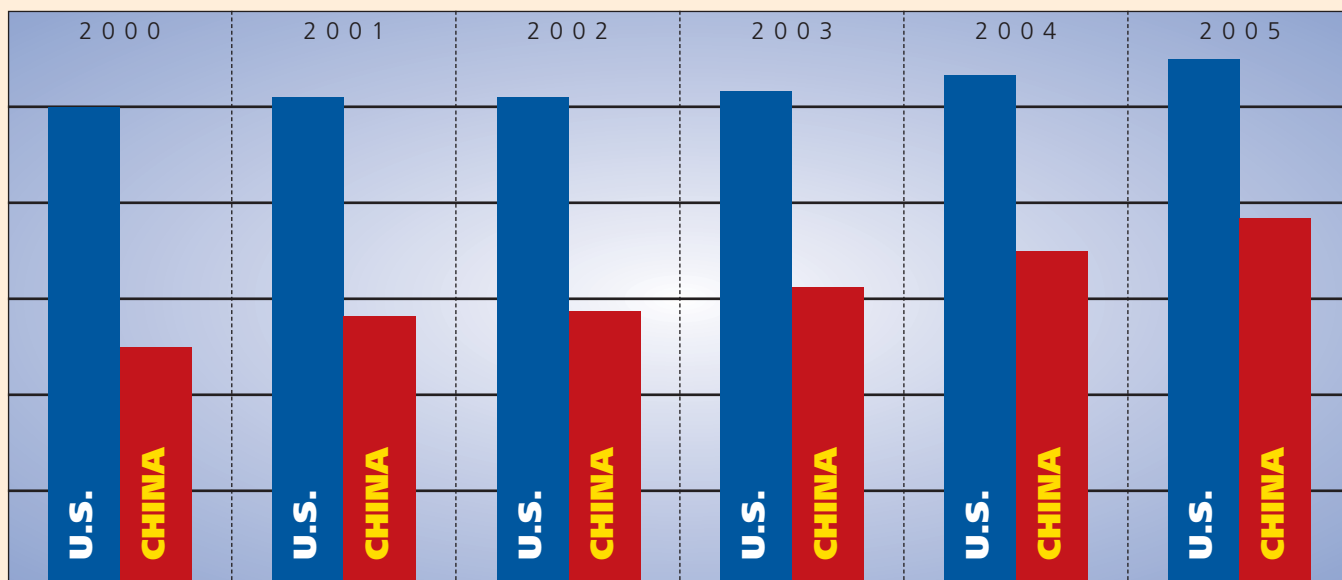

Indeed, I count FOUR irrefutable reasons why the ONLY intelligent bet to make on oil and energy now is on soaring prices as far as the eye can see...

Reason #1:
One Word, Five Letters:
C-H-I-N-A

Unlike many analysts who choose to pontificate from the ivory towers of Wall Street, I personally travel the world's natural resource investment hotspots to see what's happening with my own eyes, and on my own dime.

On a recent trip behind the Great Wall, I had the rare privilege of meeting privately with one of the top banking officials in China. I learned, first hand, how the Chinese government is managing the country's banking problems... what they plan on doing with the country's currency, the yuan... and most importantly the inside skinny on the country's energy needs.

A surprising capitalist u-turn in Communist China has spawned a modernization miracle... and bottomless demand for oil and energy!

Since 1979, China has opened its economy, gradually privatizing state owned enterprises... establishing Special Economic Zones with tax incentives to attract foreign investment... lifting price controls... and abolishing credit quotas in the banking sector...

And as a result, China's economy has been consistently growing THREE TIMES FASTER than ours!

In just the last few years, 224 MILLION Chinese peasants have descended upon the cities and taken jobs, creating the most explosive increases in per-capita income the world has ever known!

And this mass migration has barely begun: China's economy is still only 36 percent urbanized — and it already scarfs down a third of the world's steel... gobbles up half of the world's cement... and guzzles more oil than any country except the U.S.

But China's capitalist economy continues to accelerate like a jet-fueled dragster — and according to Guangming Daily, the percentage of Chinese citizens living in urban areas is expected to climb from 36% to 60% as early as 2025!

According to government estimates, an additional 600 MILLION new capitalists will pour into the nation's 660 cities... instantly transforming at least 200

"Many Americans believe the Chinese are all pulling rickshaws..."

When President Bush visited China in 1975 as a young man, China had few, if any, wealthy people. I still remember the images on TV of Bush pedaling around Beijing on a bicycle, amazed at the sea of Chinese workers dressed in blue or green. Not one of them owned a car, or a home.

On a recent trip to Beijing, Bush saw streets crammed with cars, including high-end roadsters and gas guzzling luxury cars. So many BMWs in fact, that BMW plans to open an entire factory there later this year!

Housing has boomed as well. When Bush first came to China, only a few Chinese in the Communist Party upper echelon lived in luxury. Today, every major city sports gated communities fit for kings and modeled after those in the United States.

The resulting demand for energy is pushing China aggressively into the world oil markets, skyrocketing demand and stretching already fragile global supplies to the max... Crude oil price increases, and select energy stock share price explosions have only just begun!"

of those cities into major metropolises. And thousands more secondary cities will spring up out of nowhere to dot the landscape as far as the eye can see.

Multiply that by rising living standards and look at what you get:

Hundreds of millions of Chinese entering the modern world for the first time...

Each one of them becoming a new wage-earner and a new consumer...

And each one placing enormous new demands on the world's natural resources... particularly precious supplies of energy and oil!

So even in the unlikely event that 300 million U.S. consumers could somehow reduce their consumption of energy, it would be a drop in the ocean compared to the truly gargantuan new demand of nearly ONE BILLION Chinese — all clamoring for their share of the 21st Century lifestyle.

Think about what that means as China's energy demand sky-rockets to power hundreds of thousands of new factories and other businesses... thousands of new government buildings... hundreds of thousands of new apartments, condominiums and private homes... plus millions of cars, trucks, buses, motorcycles, trains, cargo ships and airplanes!

Fact is, China has already trumped the U.S. in terms of consumer consumption of common household items like TV sets, refrigerators and air conditioners... and it's catching up rapidly with PCs.

Plus, now...

China is going CAR CRAZY!

There are currently less than

China is only now building its first strategic oil reserves!

China has long recognized its vulnerability toward oil supply disruption and implemented numerous policies to stunt the rapid growth of consumption, but it's a losing battle.

And with the massive trade surplus China has been enjoying with the U.S. (currency reserves are pushing $1 TRILLION), money is now no object.

Government officials recently conceded the desperate need for a strategic oil reserve safety net, and turned on the spigots in late 2005 on the first of four massive strategic oil reserve storage facilities.

When completed and filled, the four SPR bases will hold up to 150 million barrels of stockpiled crude, or about a 30-day emergency safety net of oil supply.

Between now and 2010, Chinese officials hope to quickly extend the safety margin to a 40-day supply without touching off a bidding war with rival nations. Good luck!

Investors who lock in the right positions now stand to make huge gains in select oil and alternative energy stocks as these events unfold.

30 million cars on Chinese roads. That's scarcely 1.6 cars for every 1,000 citizens. In contrast, in the United States, there are 467 autos per 1,000 citizens — over 290 times more per capita.

But now, China is catching up, and fast! More than 22,000 new cars are hitting the Chinese pavement EVERY DAY OF THE YEAR!

China's demand for new cars is WHITE HOT — and I am NOT talking just bottom-of-the-line mini-cars: Many people in China are also buying some of the biggest, flashiest, gas guzzlers they can lay their hands on.

China's explosive economic growth is creating entire armies of new millionaires. And whether they made their money in computer chips or real estate, they have one thing in common: They CRAVE the status that luxury cars offer them.

According to Dr. Joachim Schmidt, head of global sales and marketing at Mercedes, the German automaker already has 136,000 cars on the road in China — and 80 percent of them are the big, top-of-the-line S-Class gas-guzzlers!

Just 12 years ago, China was a net exporter of oil. Today it imports more than 3 million barrels EVERY DAY!

Let's put that in perspective.

1) The U.S. consumes about 25 barrels of oil for every man, woman and child in the country. China, on the other hand, consumes only about 1.6 barrels per person.

"A virtually unstoppable mega trend like this happens literally once in a lifetime!"

2) If China's per-person oil consumption equaled just 15% of America's, Chinese demand would have to jump nearly 240%... to more than 5 billion barrels per year.

3) To reach just 25% of America's consumption, Chinese demand would jump more than 400%. to about 8.4 million barrels per year.

4) And for China to consume as much oil per person as America does, China's oil demand would have to jump an eye-popping one-thousand, six hundred percent... to 33.6 BILLION BARRELS per year!

That's 2 billion barrels more than the ENTIRE world consumes today!

Will it happen? Not likely in our lifetime. Because long before China's per capita demand reaches even half of our own, the price of oil will go so high nobody could afford it!

But China's great industrial revolution has at least another 20 years to go. Its rapacious appetite for energy is insatiable. This kind of explosive demand from a nation of 1.3 billion people can only mean one thing: An explo-

... Along with positively stunning profit opportunities that will make even the most fabulous fortunes of the gilded age of American industrialism look like chump change.

And this time, you won't even have to leave your living room to cash in!

Reason #2 China DOUBLED

In any other time, this mind-boggling new demand from China would be more than enough to turn anyone into a raging energy bull.

But these are NOT normal times!

The fact is, China has a huge competitor in its race into the 21st Century: India — and its ONE BILLION citizens!

That's more than THREE TIMES MORE CONSUMERS than we have in the US — and India's economy is growing more than TWICE AS FAST AS OURS!

The most recent analysis by The Economist's Intelligence Unit estimates the Indian economy grew at the blistering pace of 7.3% in 2005 — and will experience growth that's more than DOUBLE that of the U.S. in 2006-07!

Modern India is emerging as a technological leader with an abundance of English-speaking, highly educated, talented people... and a democratic government that's opening up quickly to modern capitalism.

Like China, India is experiencing a dramatic rebirth as a thriving, vital society, with new superhighways circling the sub-continent, with massive urbanization already underway, and explosive new demands for consumer goods of all description.

Small car sales are zipping along at a 17% growth rate. But an even more astounding number is the growth in luxury car sales — literally ZOOMING at a rate of 28% per year.

The $250,000 price tag for top-end Mercedes models doesn't seem to scare the Indian buyers any more than it does the Chinese. They also crave racy models like Ferraris and Aston Martins, scheduled for launch in the country later this year.

The ballooning Indian middle class — 330 million strong and growing — is gorging itself on consumer goods — not just cars and appliances, but also air travel.

Last year, the state-owned domestic carrier, Indian Airlines, inked a $2.3 billion deal to replace its entire fleet in one fell swoop, ordering 43 new jets from Europe's Airbus. Reason: The number of airline passengers is projected to more than TRIPLE over the next five years, from 14 million to around 50 million.

With all this surging domestic demand, another major industry in India is also poised for massive expansion: STEEL.

Steel makers are hopping to keep up with the construction boom for highways, bridges, and hotels. They're racing to feed enough steel for superbooms in cities like Calcutta, New Delhi, Mumbai, and Bangalore. And the pace promises to quicken as India pumps $15 billion into overhauling its infrastructure over the next few years.

Now get this: A staggering 71% of the Indian population of 1.1 BILLION has yet to enter the modern economy! As this huge mass of new consumers are assimilated into the 21st century, the demands they'll place on the world's fragile energy supply boggles the imagination!

A Red-Hot, Three-Way Bidding War Has Already Begun: For Every Drop of Available Oil

A great 3-way race for energy is now emerging among China, India and the U.S. — a competition that promises to send select energy stocks soaring... and potentially making nimble investors like you very wealthy.

China is already trying to eat Uncle Sam's energy lunch by investing billions of dollars globally to secure oil in Africa, the Middle East, Canada, Eastern Europe, and South America.

And India, which has repeatedly gotten stepped on by China, is anxiously looking for a chance to stomp all over China's toes...

field. But before the deal sealed, the China National Petroleum Group (CNPC) swooped in with an offer that was reportedly 17% higher and snatched the oil prize for Beijing.

ONGC Videsh also lost out to CNPC, which outgunned its Indian rival for PetroKazakhstan with a $4.18 billion bid.

Another Chinese oil company, China National Overseas

Oil Corp (CNOOC), purchased the Apko field in Nigeria for $2.27 billion, outbidding India's state-owned Oil & Natural Gas Corp.

Just when India thought it had a gas pipeline deal with Myanmar, China muscled it's way in and offered the South-east Asian country a better deal.

As you can see, so far the score is China 5, India zip. But India isn't crying uncle. It's making its biggest gambit yet with a billion-dollar entry into Canada's oil sands that's got the Chinese scrambling again.

And despite its earlier loss in Kazakhstan, India isn't giving up there, either. India's state-run Oil & Natural Gas Corp. is trying to outflank China's CNOOC with a $2 billion bid for a Kazakhstan oil producer.

Until recently, while India and China have been racing around the planet signing deals, the biggest U.S. oil companies have been taking an afternoon nap.

Now that's changing too: American companies are waking up and entering the game with guns blazing. They need the reserves badly. And they're flush with huge amounts of cash to buy them up.

I'm not talking just about ExxonMobil that recently raked in $10.7 billion in profits, the largest for any company in the history of the world. The latest numbers show that overall, oil industry profits are running at an annual Ex-prison executioner Mahmoud Ahmadinejad... Now Iran's nuke happy, Jew hating lunatic president thinks he's on a mission from God!

Just one more madman in an ever lengthening line up of fundamentalist fanatics hell bent on interrupting the flow of precious black gold to the west...

The small, bearded figure in a trademark dilapidated gray suit gloatingly steps up to the podium to deliver the Iranian people's scheduled dose of rancorous anti U.S. rhetoric. All he needs to do is cut off Iranian oil supplies to the West he says, and he can create financial turmoil the likes of which the infidels have never known...

It could happen so fast it would make your head spin... and it will happen if the UN Security Council imposes sanctions against Iran for nuclear treaty non compliance... or if the US or Israel make a pre emptive military strike to take out Iranian nukes before they "go live" later this year.

What's more...

Ahmadinejad's pride and joy, a new 223-mph torpedo (developed with stolen Russian technology), has just been successfully tested in the Strait of Hormuz. This is the narrow, four-mile corridor between Iran and Oman through which every single tanker leaving the Persian Gulf must pass ... the single most vital "choke point" on the planet... the one strategic location that if disrupted, could sink the global economy... because fully 40% of the world's oil supply must pass through it. And yet, it sits right in the bowels of Iran.

Indeed, the Supreme Commander of Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard, Major General Yahya Rahim Safavi, called the Strait of Hormuz the "economic lifeline" of the West and said Iran could use it as a vehicle for wreaking economic havoc.

Years of U.S. government energy policy complacency, and addiction to Middle Eastern oil threaten to put American soldiers in harm's way, AGAIN!

"The war in Iraq is going from good to better..."

Osama bin Laden's statement broadcast by al-Jazeera television on April 23 showed the al-Qaeda chief in top rhetorical form, as he expressed his deep satisfaction with the advancement of jihad in Iraq... and the great lessons learned there over the past 33 months.

Iraq is sitting on 115 billion barrels of proven reserves. It pumped 3.5 million barrels per day (bpd) of oil before the first Gulf War. Now, it can barely muster an estimated 1.7 million bpd, according to the Oil & Gas Journal, with only 1.1 million of that exported.

As conditions in Iraq deteriorate, pipelines are blown up so often they're becoming difficult to patch. Over and over again, they get hit. Repeatedly, repair workers rush in.

Of course public enemy #1 would like nothing more than to inflict further damage on the already delicate supply of oil out of the Middle East by putting the "lessons" learned in Iraq to work at the central bank of oil, Saudi Arabia.

According to Saudi Arabian terrorist expert Dr. Saad al-Faqih, the jihadis had previously avoided targeting the Saudi royals because they feared a secular takeover in the event of the sudden downfall of the House of Saud. In the past, bin Laden was quoted as saying that if the House of Saud is removed, the country will fall into the hands of secular forces.

But now, bin Laden has reached the conclusion that the sudden collapse of the regime will either invite foreign interference or chaos. Both scenarios are now viewed favorably, based on the great lessons learned in the theater of Iraq. In fact the jihadis would welcome an American invasion, knowing full well that it will provide a massive recruitment opportunity for them, as it has in Iraq.

And if the infrastructure carnage in Iraq is any indication, the impact on global oil supplies would be devastating. Saudi Arabia exports more oil than Iran and Iraq combined!

For these reasons, international counter terrorist experts now believe Al-Qaida is realigning its operations toward an all out effort to destabilize the Saudi regime, because they know American dependency on Saudi oil means US military intervention would soon follow...

"Addiction to oil is a matter of National Security!"

Meanwhile, since taking office in 2001, the Bush administration has spent an estimated one to three trillion dollars on invasions and occupations to combat terror, and secure vital flows of foreign oil.

The economic result has been the accumulation of a mountain of treacherous debt, now totaling an unfathomable $108,000 for every family of 4 in the nation, and a corresponding precipitous 25% fall in the dollar against the Euro.

Clearly the current reaction to the problem of growing dependence on foreign oil (today America imports 60% of it's oil, up from 25% just 20 years ago) is proving infeasible and unsustainable.

With each inevitable up tick in the price of oil it becomes increasingly obvious the time has finally come for massive inflows of capital to begin flooding into alternative energy markets, and make no mistake, some of the record profits the big oil companies have been raking in are already ear marked.

Peak Oil is so close in fact, that in the very near future a sustained commitment of effort on a wartime scale toward the development of these alternative fuels is a virtual certainty. The only question is WILL YOU PROFIT?

rate of $70.8 billion — nearly THREE TIMES HIGHER than the average over the previous five years!

Now that these sleeping oil giants are wide awake, the race for black gold is fast and furious, with each player trying to elbow its way to the trough and slurp up every last drop of oil it can.

If you said, “They’ll go BAL-LISTIC!”... go to the head of the class because you’re right.

Reason #3

Skyrocketing Demand Is Only the HALF of the Story

While demand for energy is destined to continue skyrocketing for years to come, the Earth’s supplies are running dangerously low.

Industry experts estimate there are only about 1 trillion barrels of oil left in the earth.

Of that, 45% — just 450 billion barrels — are believed to be of the quality needed to be efficiently refined into gasoline.

The vast majority of Middle-Eastern oil is too high in sulfur. Much of the low-grade Russian shale oil is so hard and tar-like, you could build a house out of the stuff.

Meanwhile, supplies have gotten so tight, industry spin-doc-tors are now calling the Alberta “tar sands” the new silver bullet that’s going to solve all of our energy problems. Don’t believe it for a minute. The tar sands are just a speed bump on the way to a full-blown crisis.

Even WITHOUT the inevitable consumption explosion we’ve talked about, the world is scheduled to run out of all known oil reserves in about 35 years!

Some undeniable, powerful and virtually unchangeable facts:

“With tens of billions of dollars now flowing into the sands, you can bet your bottom dollar oil prices are headed for the moon!”

Some people believe the ultimate solution to our energy problems is the Alberta Oil Sands. I wish it were true! They used to be called “tar sands”, now they’re called “oil sands”, but they’re really deposits of bitumen, a tar-like viscous oil. And bitumen is not the magic pot at the end of the rainbow many people think it is...

The problem? While Alberta’s oil sands deposits may indeed contain lots of oil, about two tons of sand must be dug up, heated and refined to make a single barrel. Not only is that very expensive and environmentally unfriendly, it’s also energy intensive. In fact, it takes the equivalent of 1 barrel of oil (natural gas is the most common fuel) to boil 3 barrels of oil out of those two tons of sand.

The real return on investment is less than half of a deep-water oil field, even at current prices, yet tens of billions of dollars are already fueling development. With that amount of money flowing into the sands, escalating oil prices are a dead lock cinch in the months ahead. The only question is. Will YOU profit?

Send for Your FREE Investment Guides TODAY!

❑ Already, the world's oil fields are pumping at nearly 100% of their capacity: The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) has hit its limit to produce light, sweet crude — the preferred grade of oil used to make gasoline. They have more oil, but not the low-sulfur oil the world is thirsty for!

❑ Oil refineries here in the U.S. and abroad have hit a stone wall: Already industry experts expect global supply to exceed global demand by a staggering 1 billion barrels a day. But it will take years for new drilling, refining and transportation capacity to come on stream.

❑ Many of the world's oil-fields and pipelines are in politically unstable regions, with some frequently destroyed by violent attacks. This is causing oil companies to proceed very slowly and carefully, or not at all, preferring to grow through acquisition.

Bottom line: There are less than 2,500 rigs drilling for new oil in the world today, less than half as many as there were in 1981.

Reason #4:
65% of Global Oil Reserves
Are Under Siege

I don't have to tell you that geopolitical tensions are huge and growing.

The cultural disconnect between the radical Islam and Western worlds is also widening daily.

Indeed, a major revolution is sweeping the Muslim world, and Wall Street is largely ignoring it.

OIL: The New Terrorist Weapon of Choice!

The war on Terror, the U.S. occupation of Iraq, nuclear renegades in Iran, terrorism, and a Middle East peace process that's been killed by the rise of Hamas are destabilizing financial and political systems globally.

All of these escalating tensions represent a daily threat to Middle Eastern oil flows the West has become dangerously dependant on...

They seem to forget that the same lands that are being rocked by violence is also the ground that harbors the world's largest reserves of crude oil.

The Persian Gulf countries, where most of the world's oil reserves are concentrated, are especially vulnerable: Iran is on a collision course with the West over its nuclear program. Saudi Arabia's oil facilities, the largest in the world, are routinely attacked by terrorists. And nearly all oil production in the region could be in jeopardy if Iraq slides down the slippery slope of civil war.

We see the same pattern in Nigeria, one of America's largest oil suppliers. We see it happening in Ecuador and Venezuela. Everywhere, revolutionaries and terrorists are transforming oil into their economic weapon of choice.

After you've filled your portfolio with my top oil-patch takeover targets for 2006, you'll be ready for my alternative energy plays that are heating up right behind oil.

And I'm going to help you do just that — by including a second valuable report called Alternative Energy Breakout — an additional $79 value, absolutely FREE!

Why? Because with oil prices headed through the ozone, I have no doubt money is going to finally start flowing into alternative energy like crazy.

In the days when you could fill up your SUV without putting a second mortgage on your house, nobody wanted to invest in alternative energy schemes.

But now that's changing quickly.

The world's supply of oil is running out! The United States depends more on foreign oil than ever before in history! And almost two thirds of America's oil imports come from some of the least stable oil producing nations!

So there's now a massive push from all sides — from corporations to the President of the United States — to finally reduce America's dependence on oil, especially foreign oil. And there's a multi-trillion-dollar shift in the making toward alternative energy sources.

The biggest push, though, comes neither from CEOs nor government leaders. It comes from MONEY: The higher crude oil goes, the more money you're going to see RUSHING into alternative energy.

And in the years ahead, I see nowhere for the price of crude to go but up. That's why I see alternative energy taking center stage very soon.

And that's also why I want to rush you a copy of Alternative Energy Breakout post haste.

In it, I reveal the new fundamentals that are driving a rebirth in alternative energy. I give you the low-down on the powerful political pressures now building... and I reveal the full story on exciting new improvements that are boosting efficiency and cost competitiveness in all forms of alternative energy: Solar. Wind. Nuclear. Hydroelectric. Biomass.

I'll name the companies I'm recommending now... show you why I'm convinced that each one is destined to spin off gains of 50%... 80%... 100% and more in the months ahead... and give you my trademark strategies for minimizing your risks while maximizing your gains!

These concise, no-nonsense, plain English guides to the next big oil take over plays and alternative energy investments — jam-packed with insights to help you grow richer in 2006 and beyond — normally sell for $79 each — $158 for both...

...But it's so crucial that you act on these recommendations immediately, I've arranged for you to get both of these revealing reports, absolutely FREE!

Once you've seen and acted on my world-beating oil and alternative energy stock recommendations for 2006 — you're going to want a way to stay on top of my "buy" and "sell" recommenda-

Bonus Gift #3 — Asian Resource Dynamos

Say "natural resource stocks", and the average American investor thinks of the big U.S. natural resource companies. Companies like Exxon Mobil, Connoco Phillips, and Freeport McMoran.

Nothing wrong with that, but I'm going to let you in on one of the best kept secrets I've discovered in my world travels...

Some of the HOTTEST, highest growth opportunities are in Asia!

I've just finished a brand new special report called "Asian Natural Resource Dynamos" to give you a nice overview including Fourteen blistering HOT stock recommendations to make a killing on right now.

The growth potential in China, India, Thailand, Myanmar, Vietnam, and Indonesia staggers the imagination...

All of these countries are booming and bustling, driving voracious demand for nearly every natural resource known to man. You name it, they need it... and LOTS more of it badly!

These economies, (particularly China) are flush with cash and desperately pouring billions of dollars into natural resource exploration and production to accommodate over 40% of the world's population, currently woefully underserved... and billions more into importing what they can't produce themselves.

If you'd like a tasty bite of those billions being spent on resources, then you've got to follow the money and stake your claim in the best companies it's flowing to...

These companies have been largely ignored by American investors. They remain virtually undiscovered — even though they offer obscene upside potential.

That's why it's so critical you obtain this special report immediately to take advantage of the wild surge in share values that's taking place right now... before mainstream investors pick up the scent.

Here's just a small sampling of what you'll discover in this late breaking report...

■ How to successfully invest in a select handful of elite Asian resource stocks quietly flying under Wall Street's radar — each uniquely poised to soar with explosive gains this year...

■ Uncover one of Asia's hottest energy stocks and put your portfolio on steroids... its share price already rocketed up some 300% since early 2002 and its healthy revenues will keep feasting on China's oil boom buffet for years to come...

keep as my gift to you for giving REAL WEALTH a fair try.

The absolute worst thing that could happen is you'll come out $316 ahead, and chances are you'll be laughing all the way to the bank as these mega trends play out.

What could be fairer than that?

Mark My Words:
If You Don't ACT On This Exciting Opportunity NOW, You'll Be Kicking Yourself For Years to Come!

In our short time together, I've introduced you to not one, but four earth-shaking mega trends that are destined to drive oil and energy prices through the ever lovin roof in 2006-2007.

PLUS, I've shown you why oil SUPPLIES have never been tighter or in greater jeopardy... and given you a clear path short term, slam dunk profits in both oil AND alternative energy.

I've shown you why I'm absolutely convinced the combination of shrinking supplies and exploding demand will drive the price of oil up another $20, $30, perhaps even $40 a barrel and beyond in the month's ahead... and why $100 oil is a virtual certainty in 2006-2007.

And I've crafted an almost irresistible package of shameless bribes to make this decision a non event for you... because I DO NOT want you to miss out on this once in a lifetime opportunity!

I've been around the markets for more than two decades. And I have never — EVER — been more bullish on energy than I am at this very moment!

Heck, even if I'm only half right about these forecasts, the takeover plays I've got in store for you could still easily hand you profits that will make even your best friends green with envy, and have you smiling ear to ear.

And that's without one bit of leverage. With limited risk investments that give you leverage (which I'll introduce you to when you're on board), you have the opportunity to multiply your take by a factor of 10 or even more!

You can see I work hard for my members. I've done everything I can to make REAL WEALTH the easiest... simplest... and most rewarding way to lock in massive natural resource gains in 2006-2007. Now it's up to you.

Urgent FLASH BULLETIN – A Supplement to Dennis Slothower’s “Stealth Stocks” Financial Newsletter

Hulbert’s Financial Digest top rated stock analyst Dennis Slothower – who accurately called the bear market bottom within just 10 days in 2002 — invites you to discover his next big winners ...

Three Stealth Stocks Ready to Soar!

And The Hidden Bull
Market The Fat Cats On Wall Street Hope You Never Discover...

In this urgent flash bulletin:

- How to zero in on “pre-breakout” stocks using the forbidden trading secrets individual investors aren’t supposed to know ...
- My three top “stealth stocks” ready to soar that could hand you explosive gains of 235%... 488%... as much as 1198%, or more ...
- How to turn the tables on Wall Street, and profit from the three biggest scams legions of “intermediaries” are using right now to quietly rob you blind ...
- And more!

Dear Prudent Investor,

My name is Dennis Slothower. When I was a young broker working the commodities trading floors on Wall Street in the late seventies, and later as a portfolio manager in the eighties, I faced a terrible dilemma ...

Before landing on Wall Street — an idealistic graduate of Brigham Young University in Utah — I believed, as you may, that America's stock markets provide an essentially equal opportunity for all.

But as an industry insider, I soon learned they're more like rigged casinos, teaming with twenty-four-hour-a-day manipulators... round-the-clock schemers... and compulsive liars who'd tell their widowed mothers to bail out of a hot stock if they wanted to buy her position.

Like a secret subway under the streets of Manhattan, runs an old boys network into the very heart of the investment banks and brokerage houses you trust and depend on to make markets for the shares you trade.

Once material news about a given stock becomes public knowledge, the insiders have been whispering about it for weeks or months, and the real profit has already been skimmed off the top.

Worse, top brokerage executives and analysts have been caught red handed taking what amount to multi-million dollar bribes in return for urging you to buy the stocks of companies they know full well are cooking their books and recklessly inflating their earnings.

Rogue Trader Defies Wall Street Insiders To Make Individual Investors Up To 1198% RICHER!

Widely recognized as one of the world's leading technical analysis experts, Wall Street defector Dennis Slothower tracks the smart money like no other to hand you one grand slam home run after another ...

Read the remarkable true story of how he turned his back on Wall Street after discovering the forbidden Stealth Stock secret that empowers individual investors to profit from the slippery and deceitful tricks investment bankers, brokers, and crooked CEOs routinely use to fleece unwary investors.

Stealth Stock	Open	Current*	Gain
Immucor	$1.57	$33.64	2043%
Nvidia	$7.05	$35.23	400%
ICICI Bank	$8.04	$44.95	459%
Psychiatric Solutions	$5.05	$37.14	635%

Superior Energy	$9.23	$29.57	220%
Endo Pharm Holdings	$8.65	$29.00	235%

And in the ultimate betrayal of your trust, these same firms routinely employ “specialists” who short sell huge blocks of stock while their crooked analyst cohorts shamelessly hype the very same dog stocks.

Predictably, investors have been beaten to a pulp by these sordid practices for as much as 99.9% of their money.

If you think the high profile swindles like Enron & WorldCom that periodically make headlines as they rip through the financial markets are isolated incidents you’re sorely mistaken.

It’s just business as usual on Wall Street.

The highly publicized “reforms” that have gone into effect after each one of the dozens of scandals that have rocked Wall Street over the years do little to protect you. Within weeks, the thieves are weaselling their way around the new “regulations”.

Wall Street’s darling “market analysts” remain severely conflicted, their “BUY” ratings often nothing more than shameless sales hype, bought and paid for — by the very companies they’re recommending.

Investment banks are still sieves of insider information that’s trafficked for unimaginable profits. Market manipulation remains rampant.

It ‘s always been this way, and it always will be on Wall Street — for one very simple reason: That’s where the money is. The rules of the game may change, but the song remains the same.

Sorry if that’s too blunt for you, but it’s the honest truth.

Each of these scams has in one way or another already gutted investment values... vaporized the prosperity, financial security, and retirement dreams of millions of Americans, many of them in their 60s, 70s and beyond. What I’ve mentioned here is just the tip of the iceberg!

Do the regulators know how the wolves on Wall Street are brutalizing individual investors?

You bet they do!

The SEC has admitted on numerous occasions that all Wall Street firms are guilty of serious conflicts of interest.

Millions of otherwise prudent, intelligent people are buying their lies hook, line and sinker: Placing their life savings and retirement nest eggs into the hands of sharks who can transform your comfortable life in retirement into a life of greeting shoppers at Wal-Mart.

I DO NOT want that for you.

That's why in 1989 I turned my back on Wall Street forever. After spending almost 8 years in the underbelly of the beast and bearing witness to the unbridled greed and corruption, I swore I would dedicate the rest of my working life to helping the little guy.

Ever since, my job — no make that my passion — has been to help savvy individual investors like you to achieve the steady, secure profits and income you so desperately need and deserve in retirement.

My method is simple ...

The Incredible "Stealth Stock" Secret That Zeros In On Sharp Market Reversals And The Next Big Winners With Sharp Shooter Accuracy!

In the early days of my career at the big wire houses I specialized in trading financial futures and commodities.

As a big time trader, risk had to be strictly managed. To do so, required access to sophisticated information systems and real time trading data that at the time was only available to insiders. Using these tools, I developed a proprietary risk management model.

In 1986 I began applying it to mutual funds and individual stocks and made a shocking discovery ...

I realized it was much more than an incredibly good risk management tool and indicator of a stocks true intrinsic value.

"Helped Me Avoid Big Losses!"

"Trading long and short following the short-term and intermediate technical indicators you demonstrated in Stealth Stocks has helped me avoid big losses and restored my confidence in investing.

If Dennis ever stops his newsletter, I will have to stop investing!"

WILLIAM CHENOWETH
BIRMINGHAM, AL 35242

"Stealth Stocks Gets Me In and Out Of The Market At The Right Time!"

"I use it regularly to determine when to enter and exit the market, as well as to select fund families that are in favor. The newsletter is the very best value of all newsletters I have received"

-- Raymond B.,
Friendswood, TX

Astonishingly, it also allowed me to spot potential insider-trading activity, and accurately foretell big up or downside moves in the stocks I was monitoring.

- In the summer of 1987 my models starting flashing red, signalling Wall Street insiders were beginning to short sell huge blocks of the very same stocks they'd been aggressively pushing on investors in the previous run up.

Immediately I sprang to action. Without notifying my superiors, I tipped off my clients.

Those who listened avoided the infamous Black Monday crash that appeared "mysteriously" out of nowhere to liquidate the life savings of millions of less fortunate investors.

I was severely reprimanded for my actions, and left Wall Street defiantly shortly thereafter to begin publishing my findings openly in an independent newsletter.

Ever since I've used this same remarkable system over and over again to help individual investors like you to keep your money safe and growing.

Case in point:

- Had you been with me in early 2000, you would have received a warning that Wall Street insiders were setting the investing public up for another kill — followed by an urgent SELL signal on March 27th — THE VERY DAY the Nasdaq 100 hit its yearly high.

Those who heeded that clear, unambiguous warning escaped a savage slaughter in the months that followed. $9.6 TRILLION changed hands and millions of individual investors nearing or already in retirement were brutally RAPED by the Wall Street establishment.

You see, regardless of what the Wall Street propaganda machine tries to feed you through the mainstream media, the secret to investing success is really quite simple.

Sidestepped Catastrophic Losses!

"Your advice to sell near the NASDAQ top was timely and helpful, while other advisory services remained on a screaming buy."

-- C. M., Austin, TX

Do What They Do, Not What They Say ...

The numbers don't lie. When you see the specialists and the insiders on the move, there's a very good chance they know exactly what they're doing, and it just makes sense to follow the money.

Does that mean you ignore fundamental analysis, and the financial strengths and weaknesses of a given company? Not at all, but what it does mean is that you need to add stealth technical analysis to the equation to bag the big winners and sidestep the losses.

For example, back in 2002, of the 10,000 stocks I monitor for inherent value, stability, and relative strength, I was alerted to some unusual trading activity in a stock that was among the top 100, a micro cap called Middleby Corp. (MIDD).

This was a company that makes restaurant ovens and related equipment. It had recently gobbled up one of its competitors and was aggressively wringing costs out of the combined entity.

All of my indicators told me Middleby's stock at the time was significantly undervalued relative to the market and its competitors. The company had a long and stable history of accelerating earnings, and very little debt.

At the time, the shares were under $10, and thinly traded.

But on August 19th, my tracking system alerted me that volume spiked from 6,000 shares one day to 70,800 the next! I did a quick check. No news to speak of. No earnings reported. No announcements.

Over the next 4 trading days, more than 176,100 shares traded hands. That was more than triple the volume for the previous 4 sessions.

When something like this happens, the next thing I do is check out the company's transaction log. If it's made up of a lot of small in-and-out trades, it usually means day traders are driving the stock.

But if I see a handful of 5,000 to 10,000 block trades, it may mean some big hitters are trying to buy in "quietly". That's a sign something's up. So I looked

"Over $100,000 in Profits On Two Separate Occasions!"

"Stealth Stocks has helped me develop a strategy of blending fundamental analysis & technical analysis into my stock trading.

So far I've made over $100,000 in profits on two separate occasions with the recommendations you gave me!"

Thomas Myers
TOPEKA, Kansas 66604

deeper into the company to see if I could find out what was happening behind the scenes.

Sure enough Middleby was in the final stages of rationalizing the business it had acquired a year earlier and had just trimmed it's workforce substantially, presumably in preparation for the release of a blockbuster quarterly report.

Somebody knew something ...

This was clearly a case of somebody on the inside knowing what was going to happen. It was classic "insider" activity. 5,000 shares here, 12,000 shares there. Small blocks bought over several days... in an attempt to keep the stock price low ... and not draw too much attention.

I'd seen cases like this before. Middleby was being dressed up to attract institutional money. In the September 2002 issue of my Stealth Stocks newsletter, I advised subscribers to jump into the stock. At the time, it was trading at around $9 (adjusted for dividends and splits).

On March 16 2003, Middleby announced its annual numbers. Sure enough, gross margin was through the roof, up by more than 30%!

Volume started to swell. By August the stock had ballooned in price to $20 a share. Had you been with us you could have nearly doubled your money.

In December the big money hit, just as I had predicted ...

You could have doubled your money again. Middleby's shares were trading at over $40, up a scorching 361% in just 15 months.

But it didn't end there. Each quarter, Middleby's numbers just kept getting better and better. By December 2005, the share price had doubled again to over $86. Had you bought this stock when it first appeared in Stealth Stocks you could have made a killing... more than 1198%!

Think of it! That's enough to turn a small $25,000 investment into over A QUARTER OF A MILLION BUCKS... $50,000 into more than $649,000!

Was Middleby a fluke, a flash in the pan? Not by a long shot! Here are just a few more of the high flyers that have been featured in Stealth Stocks over the years ...

- Tesoro Corporation (TSO), which appeared in Stealth Stocks in March of 2003, could have given you outsized gains of 488% in just 46 months...

- Had you bought NS Group (NSS) which I featured in the January 2004 issue just 36 months ago, you could be bragging about a 379% gain, and looking forward to more ...
- When I broke the story on Myogen (MYOG) in January of 2005 before the Gilead Sciences takeover bid, you would have had the opportunity to bag an explosive 371% gain in just 24 months, and...
- You could be sitting pretty on top of 141% returns from INVESTools Inc. (IEDU), which was showcased in January of 2006 ... MORE THAN DOUBLING YOUR MONEY in just over a year!

The secret is to track the very best managed companies with solid earnings, low debt, and a competitive market advantage — and then pounce when the smart money hits. Situations just like those I've been telling you about.

But please, whatever you do, do not run out and buy any of those stocks.

I've got a much better plan for you ...

Three Stealth Stocks Ready to Soar!

These are the stocks I'm counting on now to hand us big fat juicy gains in the coming months. Of the 10,000 stocks my system tracks exhaustively, these are among the most undervalued, stable, and strong.

And every one of my 23 confirming indicators is literally screaming that a tidal wave of buying action could hit these stocks at any moment, with the potential to drive them into the stratosphere!

Stealth Stock #1:

Buy this stock NOW, and you could easily double your money in the next 12 months!

This company is poised to reap explosive revenue and profit expansion due to its dominant position in energy infrastructure services. It's already seen its backlog surge to $8.1 BILLION in recent months.

- It's a proven leader in high demand environmental retrofits, nuclear plant restarts and new construction, and has already supplied chemical technology for 36% of the world's ethylene capacity construction since 1990 ...

- This superbly managed service provider is also one of the very few companies federally pre-qualified to provide emergency services to the U.S. government, and played a central role in hurricane relief efforts in the wake of Katrina ...
- It's also a core service provider to Homeland Security, providing essential services to numerous federal agencies in response to anthrax and other biological contamination emergencies ...

The stock has exceptional book value: this company has very little debt, and plenty of cash to finance operations for the foreseeable future. And right now, my proprietary indicators are showing evidence of new institutional nibbles ...

71% Richer!

"One of your picks gave me a 121% gain, which included a stock split. My overall portfolio is up 71%.

The logic you use is good (not emotional). I really appreciate your honesty and integrity."

-- Q. Bassett, Manteca, CA

Stealth Stock #2:

Huge profits driving costs out of aviation for penny-pinching airlines and governments worldwide!

This company is an all-star outsourcer in virtually every one of the world's major aviation markets... fulfilling highly lucrative supply chain management contracts... overhauling and repairing airframe and engine components... and selling and leasing reconditioned commercial jet aircraft.

One of the things you're going to love about this company is it's broadly diversified revenue base ...

"Ended Up Making Substantial Profits!"

"I was skeptical about your advice to get into REITs last year. But I looked into it in detail and ended up making substantial profits."

Its customer list reads like the who's who of the aviation industry, including many of the world's largest commercial airlines... manufacturers like Boeing, Bombardier, General Electric, Northrop Grumman, Pratt & Whitney, and Rolls-Royce... and major cargo carriers like Airborne Express, DHL, FedEx and UPS...

Plus, the company also provides ongoing military logistics support services for government... boasting long term contracts with Israel, Japan, the Netherlands, Singapore, Thailand, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, the United Kingdom and the United States.

That's an impressive list, but what has me salivating over this company are its rock solid financials.

- In the last quarter alone it cranked out a 21% increase in revenues... and a 121% pretax growth in income ...
- The company delivered strong performance to shareholders in each one of it's lines of business, including a 25% growth in defense sales... 12% growth in aviation supply... and a whopping 57% growth in maintenance repair and overhaul ...
- Since 2003, sales have skyrocketed: from $600 million in FY 2003 to $644 million in FY2004... to $748 million in FY2005... and an expected $897 million in FY2006!
- Even more impressive, this is one of the few companies you'll find anywhere that's been able to achieve this kind of meteoric growth while actually increasing its profitability... gross profits mushroomed by 34% to over $150 million in the most recent full year reporting ...

Even without the tell tale signs of smart money eyeing this stock it would be very tempting. As it stands, this stock is poised to hand you some serious windfall profits, potentially doubling, or even tripling your money, or more in 2007!

Stealth Stock #3:

This earnings powerhouse could hand you a triple... even if it wasn't a takeover target!

The third stealth stock I've hand picked for you is an independent oil and natural gas producer. This company is currently sitting on natural gas reserves of over 162 billion cubic feet and has 60 producing wells.

Plus, the company also holds a large inventory of additional development prospects — literally hundreds of promising drilling locations — representing an estimated additional 114 billion cubic feet of proved undeveloped natural gas reserves.

- Demand for oil and natural gas has been rising at a feverish pace. If you've looked at the supply-demand picture, you know MUCH higher prices are inevitable. You saw how tight supplies really are when Kartina hit.
- Here in the United States demand is growing three times faster than supply, and that isn't going to change any time soon ...
- Globally, oil and natural gas demand is exploding at an even faster pace — fueled by raging adolescent economies in China and India that are growing 3 to 4 times faster than our own!

And these scorching increases in demand couldn't be coming at a better time for this gas rich company ...

Oil and natural gas development virtually ground to a halt during the 90s and the industry is still scrambling to bring new reserves on stream. The supply picture is so acute there's a very real possibility oil prices could spike to well over $100 a barrel!

With proven reserves worth $411 million and anticipated future development costs of just $191 million, the smart money says one of the big oil monsters is going to take a run at this shining star any day now.

When that happens, you'll be grinning ear to ear if you're on board. The bidding could go extremely hot and heavy. If it does, the share price is almost certain to take off like a ballistic missile!

Don't hesitate for even a moment.

Investing in this company's shares right now could easily triple your money in short order. In fact, I'm convinced all three of these stocks represent a once in a lifetime opportunity to bank truly extraordinary profits, and there's so much more I need to tell you about them.

Urgent self defense as Washington and Corporate America quietly dismantle your financial safety net ...

Right now, with Washington putting the squeeze on our retirement benefits... with Medicare in shambles...and with thousands of American companies poised to default on their pension commitments — investors like you and I have no choice but to make our portfolios work harder than ever before if we hope to enjoy a comfortable and secure life in retirement ...

For decades, U.S. companies have been skimping on pension fund contributions, and now owe retirees a record $450 billion more in cash benefits than they can pay.

Shocking as that figure is, it pales in comparison to the shortfalls in reserves required to meet commitments to fund post-retirement health care benefits, estimated at a further TRILLION dollars!

But even that figure is dwarfed by the fiasco in Washington ...

According to the annual trustees' report on Social Security and Medicare, those programs now owe hard working folks like you and I a staggering $36.7 TRILLION more than they will be able to pay us. Allow me to put that unfathomable number into perspective for you. We're talking about a sky-piercing stack of $1000 bills over 2400 MILES HIGH!

It's only a matter of time before the hammer drops ...

As you read this — after paying into the system your entire working life — Washington is getting ready to shrink your social security payments... slash your Medicare benefits... and stick you with the tab. How does that make you feel?

I don't know about you, but it makes me fighting mad! And it couldn't be coming at a worse time ...

78 million of us are now approaching retirement age!

Refuse To Let Wall Street AND Washington Play You For A Sucker!

You stand at a crossroads. At this moment, three paths beckon ...

1. You can be one of the sheep lapping up Wall Street's self serving propaganda and get set up for the next kill: The big brokerage houses act like they're your friends, but behind your back, they're laughing at you.

To them, your life savings — and the life savings of millions of your fellow investors — are nothing more than “dumb order flow” to be exploited.

2. You can abandon your dreams: Like millions of other Americans, you can just throw up your hands and forget about trying to grow your wealth — and count on Washington's pathetic, watered-down handouts in your golden years.

But that means you'll have no choice but to discard your hopes of a comfortable, stress-free retirement... your freedom to choose which activities you'll pursue in your leisure years... and your dreams of helping your kids and your grandkids to a first class education and a solid start in life.

3. Or, you can enjoy THE SWEETEST REVENGE of all — GROWING RICH in spite of the sharks in suits on Wall Street and the congressional crooks in Washington:

Take advantage of the super potent tools I give you to assume control over your financial future... manage the formidable risks that threaten to rob you of an enjoyable and dignified retirement... and use the trades I give you to make yourself potentially 10 times RICHER!

Dear Investor,

If you had heeded my 2001 forecast that gold prices would soar past $500 ... And if you had followed me into the 22 select mining shares and other gold investments I've begged my investor friends to buy since ... (Continued inside ...)

My name is Larry Edelson, and for 28 years, my mission has been to help investors like you cash in when gold and other natural resources soar in value.

For the past decade, I've been instrumental in the great success of the gold recommendations in Dr. Martin D. Weiss' Safe Money Report.

In 2001 and 2002, my economic models began flashing red — warning of a sea change in the U.S. and global economy.

The news was so startling, I couldn't believe my own eyes. So, I double-checked and then triple-checked the numbers — and when they confirmed my suspicions, I lost no time at all alerting our 100,000-plus subscribers that ...

1. Inflation — which had been virtually nil for many long years — would soon begin eroding our buying power again ...

2. Federal Spending — which had been a balanced book — would soon balloon, creating massive deficits ...

3. Gold prices — which had crashed and languished for nearly two decades — were about to take off like a moon rocket, and most importantly, that ...

4. Select gold stocks like Glamis Gold, Newmont Mining, and Barrick Gold were going to make truly spectacular gains in the months and years ahead.

LONG STORY SHORT:

I was right on all counts: Commodity price inflation has been rampant and consumer price inflation has turned sharply higher ... the federal budget deficit has exploded 350% ... short-term interest rates have quadrupled since 2004 and gold bullion prices have nearly tripled ...

Select gold stocks like Glamis Gold, Newmont Mining, and Barrick Gold since 2001 have skyrocketed 1,880%, 174%, 59% and 174% respectively!

And among the 22 gold stocks I recommended in Safe Money Report, 19 are winners and only 3 were losers ...

Impressive? Absolutely — especially when you consider the fact that since January 2001 ...

The average DOW stock would have given you a miniscule gain of only 2.8% — not even enough to keep up with inflation ...

The average S&P 500 stock would have given you a stinging 3.4% loss ...

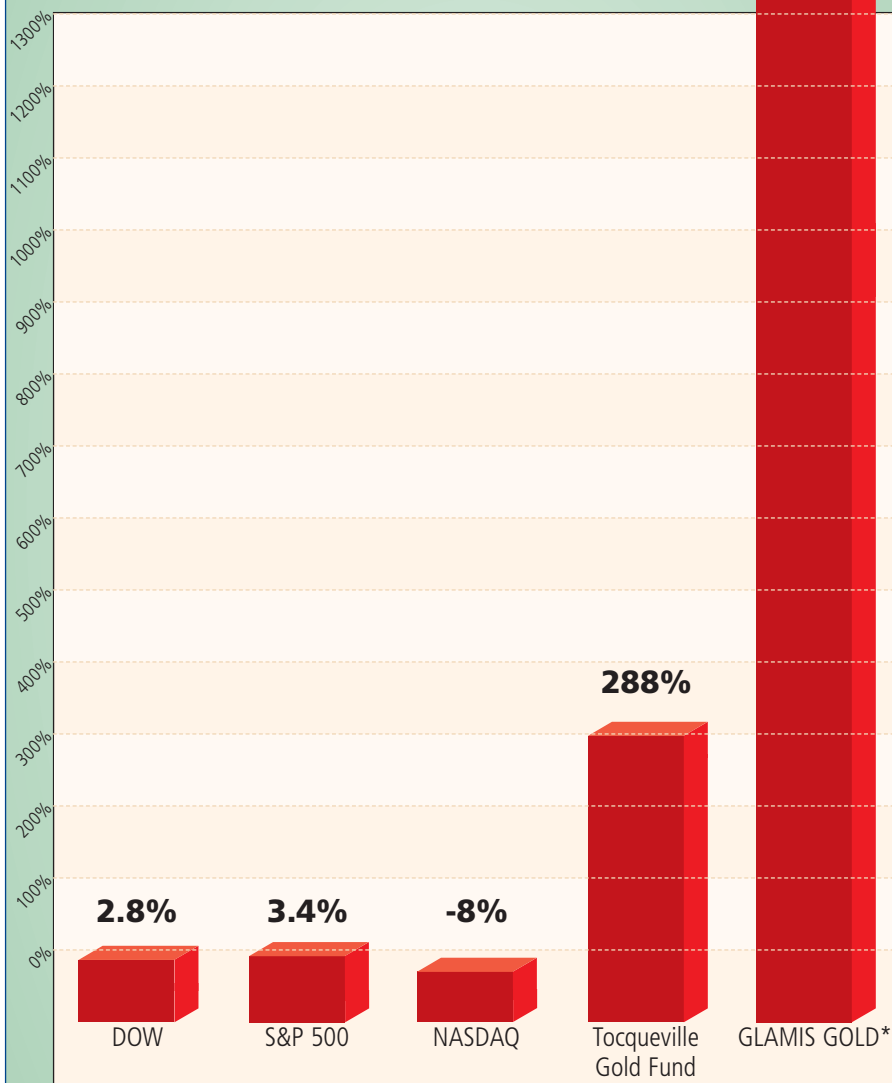

And the average NASDAQ stock would have delivered an 8% loss of your money.

But you wouldn't have had to wait since 2001 to pocket your profits. Many of my

Gold Investments Greatly Outperform All Stock Averages!

In the past five years, investors buying select gold mutual funds could have made about 70 times more than those buying the average stock in the DOW. And investors who bought select gold stocks could have made over 400 times more!

recommendations have paid off like big-jackpot slot machines — some in as little as TWELVE MONTHS:

My REAL WEALTH REPORT open recommendations (as of June 19, 2006) such as DWS Gold & Precious Metals Fund ... StreetTRACKS Gold Trust ... and Tocqueville Gold Funds are showing gains of 19%, 32%, and 44%, respectively.*

And Eldorado Gold, one of my recommended bonus positions, is up 62% in just 23 short months.*

Is every recommendation a winner? Of course not, as with any investment, there is always the possibility of gains and losses. But when you have the seven tsunami-strength forces I tell you about in this report driving gold markets higher, you have some of the strongest odds in your favor we've seen in at least a quarter century.

BOTTOM LINE:

You Could Have Beaten The DOW by 3,958% in the Last 5 Years Had You Acted Quickly On Each One of My SAFE MONEY REPORT Gold Recommendations!

Here's Why I'm Convinced You Could Do Even BETTER in 2006 and Beyond ...

I'm absolutely convinced that the profits we've enjoyed so far are just the beginning.

And if I'm right, the mind-blowing gains we've seen will Inflation-Adjusted Gold peaked at $2,176 in 1980.

Today, even if it recovers just HALF that value, it would rise to $1,088!

PALE in comparison to the profits that are now possible.

Are you ready for this? Right now, every indicator I read is virtually SCREAMING “Gold bullion prices are headed for $618, then $740, $1,000 and ultimately to $2,000 and beyond!”

Gold is now so grossly undervalued, it’s a joke.

In terms of today’s dollars, gold reached $2,176 in 1980. And that was at a time when the demand for gold was far less sustainable than it is today ... and the supplies far more abundant. In other words ...

Gold will have to nearly TRIPLE — to more than $2,000 an ounce — just to regain the same purchasing power it had 26 LONG YEARS AGO!

Look. If history teaches us anything it’s that no record stands forever on Wall Street. Someday, gold will make even higher highs. And right now, my indicators are telling me that day is coming — SOON.

And mark my words: When that day dawns, the gold stocks I’m about to introduce you to could easily have made you five, seven, even ten times richer!

I’d bet a year’s pay it’s going to happen. Why? Because I count no less than SEVEN massive global economic forces — the tsunamis of the financial world — that are already making much, MUCH higher gold prices a virtual certainty ...

Financial Tsunami #1: The U.S. Dollar Is Weakening Around the Globe, Driving Demand for Gold SKY-HIGH

Just six short years ago, the U.S. dollar was the strongest, most stable currency in the world — a port of refuge for every central banker and every investor from Britain to Japan.

But since 2001, the world's confidence in the dollar has been shaken — badly. And with every passing day, more and more banks and investors are abandoning the greenback in favor of more stable stores of value — like gold.

The charts tell the story: Since the dollar's demise began, gold has risen virtually nonstop.

Even when the dollar's decline was temporarily interrupted in 2005, gold continued to climb, evidence that the dollar is only one of several powerful forces driving gold higher.

And now, as the dollar turns down again, gold is skyrocketing at an even faster pace. Great!

And as we'll see in a moment, this gutting of the dollar's value still has a long way to go.

For evidence, take a look at what two of the world's savviest investors are doing ...

Warren Buffet and George Soros are BOTH running away from the U.S. dollar as fast as they can! Soros recently disclosed he's built a colossal short position against the dollar, and even Warren Buffet is making massive foreign currency investments — for the very first time in his 54-year career!

The falling dollar is a HUGE clue to the future of gold prices — for two important reasons:

- 1. When the value of the dollar falls, it means everything you buy with dollars

As the dollar falls, Gold prices rise!

naturally goes up in price — including of course, GOLD.

2. When foreign investors can't trust the dollar, they turn to alternatives. And since the yellow metal is historically the most stable store of value on the planet, that means massive new demand — and even higher prices for GOLD!

Financial Tsunami #2: Exploding Federal Debt Virtually GUARANTEES STRONGER GOLD PRICES AHEAD!

Since taking office in 2001, the White House and Congress have transformed the U.S. budget surplus into a bottomless cesspool of embarrassing and unsustainable debt — and it's getting more horrendous by the year:

Last year's reported $319 billion deficit was the third highest in history, and this year's is exploding toward the $400 billion level!

All told, the national debt now stands at a mind-blowing $8.17 trillion — and explosive increases are virtually locked into the system until at least 2010. In fact, the ONLY way to slow this debt disaster would be to enact drastic and painful economic measures no politician in his right mind would vote for!

Make no mistake: This mind-blowing debt can NOT be managed by simply selling more and more U.S. Treasuries to foreign investors.

There's only one way Washington could possibly keep

The Greatest Inflation Engine of All Time: U.S. Government Debt out of Control!

U.S. government debt has now surged to $8.17 TRILLION. And in March 2006, Congress raised the debt ceiling to $9 TRILLION, while padding the budget with a new round of spending that's out of control. The natural result: More money printing to cover the bulging debt, more inflation, and higher prices for gold as far as the eye can see.

this mountain of debt from crushing the U.S. economy: Crank up the printing presses and flood the economy with paper money!

Now, you ... I ... and every foreign investor and central banker in the world know what that means: That flood of Fed funny money would send inflation soaring!

No wonder China's central bankers have announced they're using some of their reserves to buy gold instead of dollars. No wonder millions of investors around the globe are shunning the U.S. dollar and turning to more stable things — like gold!

Financial Tsunami #3: The Ballooning U.S. Trade Deficit! Driving Foreign Investors OUT of Dollars And Into GOLD!

When the U.S. trade deficit soars, it simply means that foreigners are taking in far more U.S. dollars from their exports to the U.S. than we earn from our exports to them.

... And it means that

Washington's Accounting is as Twisted as a Dog's Hind Leg!

Clearly, Washington D.C. has LOST CONTROL of the Federal budget. And no institution on Earth has the power to rein the monster in before it savages the economy. Not the White House, not Congress, not the Federal Reserve or Treasury.

And believe it or not ... the grievous deficit numbers Washington's reporting are just the tip of the proverbial iceberg ...

In a March 5, 2006 speech delivered before the John F. Kennedy Forum at Harvard University, the honorable David M. Walker, U.S. Comptroller General, and Director of the General Accounting Office — the man the President relies on to audit the nation's books — confessed the widely reported 2005 Federal Budget Deficit of $319 BILLION is a watered down version of the actual budget shortfall.

In his own words, "This widely reported number is somewhat misleading ... because without the Social Security surpluses, the federal cash-based deficit was actually

David M. Walker, Comptroller General of the United States:

The actual federal budget deficit is $760 billion, more than double what's being reported, while the government's unfunded debts are now more than $46 TRILLION!

closer to $500 BILLION!

Moreover, on an accrual basis, our deficit was $760 BILLION, up $144 BILLION in the last year alone."

Mr. Walker went on to say, "Even more troubling, the federal government's long-term liabilities and unfunded commitments for things like Medicare and Social Security have risen to more than $46 TRILLION!

That's up from about $20 TRILLION just 5 years ago. And these numbers don't even take into account the bills that are pouring in for rebuilding New Orleans and the Gulf Coast, or for costs associated with Iraq and Afghanistan."

Obviously, Washington's accounting is as twisted as a dog's hind leg: In fact, this administration's accounting is so cockeyed, the comptroller general REFUSED to certify the accuracy of its bookkeeping, FOR SIX YEARS IN A ROW!

Mr. Walker also declared, "In recent years we've heard calls to remove such burdens as the so called 'death tax,' but we need to talk about the very real and growing 'birth burden.' That's what I call the staggering amount of government commitments that every American, including newborns will some day have to pay for.

"As a result, every new birth certificate comes with a bill of $156,000! Alternatively, this means that every full-time worker carries a de-facto debt load of $375,000. For a dual income family, this is like having a $750,000 mortgage without owning a house!"

"Runaway deficits like this can only mean one thing ... Soaring gold prices as far as the eye can see ... because as the dollar crashes, and inflation rears its ugly head, gold bullion rises in lock step ... and select gold stocks explode in value!"

foreigners who hold those hundreds of billions of dollars have a big decision to make: Should they:

A. KEEP their money exclusively in U.S. dollars, which have been DECLINING in value since 2001?

Or, wouldn't it be much smarter to ...

B. DUMP dollars and diversify — put big chunks of their money into safer, more stable currencies and gold instead?

I ask you: What would YOU do?

Your answer is critically important — because right now, the U.S. trade deficit is the highest ever. It jumped from $358 billion in 2001 to $435 billion in 2002 ... to $489.4 billion in 2003 ... to $512 billion in 2004 ... to a scorching $725.8 billion in 2005 ... and it's still soaring!

So if you said, "I'd diversify into more stable currencies and gold," go to the head of the class! That's precisely what the world's central bankers and investors do at times like these!

Look:

When the trade deficit soared to 3.2% of U.S. GDP in 1987, it crushed the international value of the dollar.

Today, the trade deficit is more than DOUBLE that — a whopping 6.5% of the GDP.

If that's not a dead give-away that the dollar's destined to continue collapsing — and that gold is destined to continue soaring — I don't know what is!

U.S. Trade Deficit Worst of ALL TIME! Makes Sinking Dollar and Surging Gold Inevitable.

Send now for Gold Stock Breakout of 2006!

Financial Tsunami #4: Despite What Washington Says, REAL U.S. Inflation Is Skyrocketing

Since 2001, gasoline is up 49%, beef is up 28%, eggs are up 34%, oranges and tomatoes are up 39% and 31%. The cost of buying a home has more than doubled. Health care costs and college tuitions have gone through the roof.

And yet, shameless Federal Reserve officials continue to swear on a stack of bibles that inflation is "under control."

Only a politician or a

Washington bureaucrat would have THAT kind of chutzpah!

How do they get away with that kind of gobbledygook? Simple: The government's math is so convoluted it would make Enron's crooked accountants blush in shame!

Did you know, for example that if a product jumps in price but Washington decides the "quality improved," they're actually allowed to claim that the price FELL?

And did you know that they totally ignore the surging cost of homes and condos, substituting instead the low cost of renting equivalent housing?

Please Turn ...

Then, they factor those artificially LOWER prices — the prices that nobody is actually paying — into the consumer price index, announcing that inflation is “under control!”

If you think — even for one moment — that inflation is really at just 4% a year, you’re kidding yourself. Your cost of living — the price you pay for everything from housing ... to food ... to fuel ... and to health care ... is skyrocketing by double digits every single year!

And that’s important to know — because at the outset of the last officially recognized inflationary crisis (1974-80) — BEFORE Washington began cooking the books on inflation — the average annual inflation rate was also just 4% per year ...

... And during that period, gold prices rocketed more than TEN-FOLD from $58 to $612 an ounce — that’s a 1,055% INCREASE!

Today, the true inflation is probably much higher than it was in the mid 1970s. But just to catch up with the inflation that’s taken place since then, gold will have to jump to more than $2,000 per ounce!

Financial Tsunami #5:
“Wars and Rumors of War”
Are Triggering
Huge New Demand for Gold, The Ultimate Crisis Hedge

Right now, the Middle East, the Persian Gulf and much of the planet is a powder keg on a short, SHORT fuse:

Never-ending, escalating wars in Afghanistan and Iraq ... the first-ever election to power of a sworn terrorist group (Hamas) ... Iran’s defiant and arrogant program to build nuclear weapons ... violent dissension throughout South Asia ... seething rivalries in the former Soviet States ... random acts of terror around the globe ...

... Not ONE of these hot spots is going away soon, and more are sure to arise in the months ahead.

All of this is, of course, terrible news for world security and the global economy — and news that can only drive up the value of gold!

Why? Because since the dawn of time, gold has been the ultimate crisis hedge for the world’s governments and investors. The more things heat up, the higher gold prices go!

Financial Tsunami #6:
India and China Are Set
To Take MILLIONS MORE ounces of gold off of the market — PERMANENTLY!

China has recently announced that it will plow at least 2.5% of its trade surplus into gold. That’s a staggering $2.5 BILLION of brand-new demand for gold every year!

And let’s not forget the frenetic pace of economic growth in both China, and India, running at 10.3% and 9.3% respectively. Both have only recently fully opened their domestic gold markets to private investors, and India is already among the world’s biggest buyers!

“In recent years, the Consumer Price Index con job has been getting trickier to maintain ...

Political spin-doctors have recently added whimsical “hedonic adjustments” to almost 46% of the index items.

The government’s new pretzel logic says that if the quality of a product got better over the last 12 months that it didn’t really go up in price.

In fact, it went down! Run that by me again ...”

These cultures have a deeply ingrained, emotional affinity for the yellow metal and a rapacious appetite limited only by their modest, yet rapidly rising, per-capita incomes.

Remember: Over-one third of the world's population — more than 2.4 BILLION people — live in these two developing economic superpowers!

Just to match HALF of the gold reserving achieved by the United States, China would have to buy 3,467 TONS of gold.

Financial Tsunami #7:
Just When These
Six Massive Forces
Are Creating Colossal
New Demand for Gold,
The Worldwide SUPPLY
Is Dwindling!

Even in normal times, you'd expect the six financial tsunamis above to drive gold prices into the stratosphere. But these are NOT normal times.

The fact is, after thousands of years of mining every ounce of gold possible, the planet is beginning to run out. According to U.S. Geological Survey, there are now less than 45,000 metric tons of proven gold reserves left in the ground worldwide.

And that's serious — because the above-ground supplies of gold couldn't even BEGIN to satisfy today's exploding demand for the yellow metal. If all of the gold in the world was put in one place, it would fit comfortably in a high-school gymnasium!

Bottom line? No matter how you look at the supply and demand realities, only one conclusion makes any sense at all: Much, MUCH higher gold prices are virtually guaranteed throughout 2006 and beyond!

My #1 Gold Stock Play Now:
Buy All the Gold You Want
At a 97% DISCOUNT
— Just $15 per ounce!

My first pick for you, Gold Reserve Inc. (Amex: GRZ) is catching fire — and for good reason: At today's prices, this company owns more than $5.5 BILLION in independently confirmed gold deposits ...

... and at its current share price, you get that gold at a 97% discount: Just $15 per ounce!

Gold Reserve is a well-managed 50-year-old exploration company, with no debt — and it's sitting on more than 10.1 million ounces of independently audited reserves in Venezuela's ultra-rich El Callao gold belt.

Low energy costs in Venezuela (diesel fuel is just $.15 and hydroelectricity just $.028 per kilowatt hour) give this company about a $57-per-ounce cost advantage. That will allow the company to carve an estimated 486,000 ounces a year out of the mine at a total projected cash operating cost of just $154 per ounce.

As impressive as these numbers are, what I really love about this stock is this amazing fact: It's trading at only 1.87 times book value. That alone means there's unbelievable upside potential.

Factor in its 10 million ounces of proven and probable reserves in the ground, worth more than $5.5 BILLION when mined ... and the current share price is INSANELY LOW!

My Forecast: Watch for Gold Reserve to explode in value to AT LEAST $16 a share when the Street catches wind of these multiples. That's enough to TRIPLE your money in fairly short order — but ONLY if you act fast!

My recommendation: Speed dial your broker or jump onto the Internet NOW and pick up a hefty helping of this stock. There's no such thing as a sure bet when it comes to investing. But in times like these, I think it's as close as you can get.

3 MORE Ways to Multiply Your Money
as Gold Continues to Soar

I'm so sure that Gold Reserve is about to make us a bundle, I've even written a new research report to help you maximize your gains!

It's called Gold Stock BREAKOUT 2006 — your ultimate roadmap to solid gold profits in 2006 and beyond.

In this compelling special report — available in limited quantities right now — I document ALL the reasons why I'm convinced that gold prices are bound to at least QUADRUPLE in the months ahead.

I introduce you to ALL FOUR of the gold investments I'm counting on to soar ... and I'm begging, pleading, even

INSULATE YOUR WEALTH from the perfect storm!

I'm very worried. So is my family.

Iraq is descending into civil war. Iran is threatening the world with nuclear destruction. And the entire Middle East, with 35 times the oil reserves of the United States, could soon be engulfed in the melee.

The likelihood of multiple wars breaking out across the Middle East grows greater every week. A U.S. attack on Iran, if it comes, will be a grenade tossed into a gasoline pit. Already skyrocketing oil prices would explode ... hitting the economy like a ton of bricks! It couldn't come at a worse time.

America is already reeling under a mountainous war deficit piled up over the past 5 years. Massive trade imbalances threaten to dry up foreign investment. And the dollar is auguring itself into the proverbial dirt.

Since the early 2000s, the cost of buying a home has more than doubled. Health care costs, college tuition and insurance premiums have gone through the roof. The $1.39-per-gallon price tag for gasoline, which we once thought shocking, is now an antique. And the prices of nearly all commodities are exploding all around us.

There's probably never been a time in our lives when our wealth, and our way of life have been under greater attack. Fortunately, you can erect a shield around your buying power in troubled times like these by investing in gold.

I recommend that some of your investments be in a combination of a gold ETF, a good gold fund, and shares in the right gold companies. I'll tell you about those later in this research report, but first ... what about physical gold?

How to Buy and Safeguard Your Gold

In the last 36 years, a whole series of new gold bullion coins have hit the market: The South African Kruggerand in 1970 ... the Canadian Gold Maple Leaf in 1979 ... the U.S. Gold American Eagle in 1986 ... and, most recently, the Singapore Lion in 1990. And that's just a sample list.

Are gold bullion coins a good investment? Sure. But if you buy coins, you're going to pay for the fancy design and the rarity of the coin itself. And that can add up to a hefty premium over the actual value of the gold content, as much as 7%. Put another way, the price of gold would have to rise 7% just for you to break even on the investment.

Instead, I recommend you invest in small gold bars. You can buy them in a wide range of weights, from one to a thousand grams. They contain a minimum of 99.5% fine gold and don't carry the premium that gold coins do. You can buy small gold bars or ingots for as little as 1% over the price of gold. But when buying gold, keep these rules in mind ...

Rule #1: Don't store your gold with the dealer you bought it from — Sounds simple enough, doesn't it? But the fact remains that countless investors have been burned when their gold dealer went bankrupt.

As the price of gold continues to skyrocket, you'll likely see more bankruptcies, not less. In gold bull markets, the buying frenzy seems to attract the least prudent and least ethical players to the bullion industry.

Rule #2: Take possession of your gold using one of these alternatives — When you purchase physical gold, the farther you remove your bullion — legally and physically — from the dealer, the safer it is from the claims of that dealer's creditors.

Cash & Carry. In terms of getting what you paid for, buying your gold and taking it with you is the ultimate solution. (But remember: Driving around town with a bag of gold has its own security risks).

Consignment Method. The dealer sends the bullion to you for your inspection and then you send the money. It's a great choice and gives you plenty of leverage. If you can find a dealer to go for it, you're golden.

Among the many ways to buy gold bullion, the most efficient is the small bars.

Sight Drafts. You make an arrangement with your bank to act as an intermediary between you and the gold dealer. The dealer sends the gold to the bank. The bank then holds it for your inspection. When you give the OK, the bank issues a cashier's check and you take possession of the metal.

Rule #3: Use a major, independent depository to safeguard your gold.

Rule #4: Use nonfungible storage — When you put your gold in nonfungible storage, it means it's stored in your name and it's not pooled with bullion from other customers. This keeps your gold nice and tidy — and it's really the best way to go.

However, just because your dealer says your bullion is nonfungible and completely segregated doesn't necessarily make it so. And even if your metal is segregated, that doesn't mean the segregation agreement will automatically stand up in court. The best way to make sure is to have your attorney review the firm's paperwork. Either way, always specify that you want nonfungible storage. It may cost a bit more but it's worth every single penny.

Rule #5: Consider offshore purchases and storage — I don't trust gold dealers, politicians and government bureaucrats. And there are also bankers I don't trust. There are many people who feel the same. That's why so much gold is stored in Switzerland and Australia. I especially like the Gold Certificate Program at the Perth Mint of Australia.

Gold Stock BREAKOUT 2006 is a modern-day treasure map — your guide to the gold investments I'm convinced are destined to earn you a king's ransom in the months ahead.

In this amazing guide, you'll discover ...

Gold Juggernaut #2:
Two of the World's Richest Mining Companies
Are About to Duke It Out
Over This Red-Hot Property — and Create Massive Takeover Profit Potential
FOR YOU!

The second Gold Juggernaut you'll discover in your copy of Gold Stock BREAKOUT 2006 is an extremely well-managed mining company — one of the world's lowest-cost producers — that pulls more than 270,000 ounces of gold out of its main property per year ...

... And it's sitting on almost 8 million ounces of gold — that's more than $4 BILLION of gold reserves!

What's really special about this company — besides the fact that its net income is positively exploding — is that it doesn't dilute down its profits by advance selling gold in the futures markets at today's prices. Instead, it recognizes, as we do, that gold prices are going to be a lot higher in the future. It does no advance selling. And it stands to reap 100% of the profits from gold's skyward surge!

Any way you look at it, I'm convinced this is one gold investment you can NOT afford to miss out on in 2006! This company has proven its ability to find, develop, and mine gold over the course of almost three decades, and it's well on its way to becoming a multi-mine operation within the next 3 years.

BOTTOM LINE: I'm counting on this amazing stock to produce triple-digit gains for us!

And here's the clincher: Right now, I believe that both Newmont Mining and Barrick Gold (the two 900-pound gorillas in the gold patch) are hungrily eyeing this company as a prime takeover target!

Since both Newmont and Barrick are in an all-out war for dominance in the gold industry, I expect the bidding for Gold Juggernaut #2 to get HOT and HEAVY. If I'm right, it will be SUPER-PROFITABLE for investors who own the stock!

I have no doubt the winner will pay far more than even this spectacular company is worth. So get set for the stock price to go super nova!

But it's only fair to warn you: This remarkable profit opportunity isn't going to wait for you or anybody else. To have a shot at maximizing your gains, you'll have to get your shares immediately.

Fortunately, you can: Send for Gold Stock BREAKOUT 2006, and get all the details BEFORE the shares do what I expect them to do — shoot for the moon!

Gold Juggernaut #3:
400,000-Ounce
Producer Selling at A 200,000-Ounce Price!

This emerging mid-sized mining company has more than 3.5 million ounces of reserves overseas on a property that has already produced over 11 million ounces of the precious yellow metal!

The company is cash-rich ... boasts a debt to equity ratio of just .43 ... is hedge-free ... and is selling at an unbelievable 1.3 times book value.

But here's what really gets me excited about this stock — and why I believe it's likely to start DOUBLING in value at virtually any minute:

Claim your own

BREAKOUT 2006 TODAY!

“These 7 new financial tsunamis have ALREADY BEGUN — and I see NOTHING on the horizon that could reverse a single one of them. The only question is, WILL YOU PROFIT?”

“I urge you to send for your FREE investment guide, GOLD STOCK BREAKOUT 2006 immediately, while supplies last. The fundamentals driving this next play will blow your mind ...”

Until recently, this company had produced about 200,000 ounces of gold each year — and even at that level of production, its price is a screaming bargain.

My near-term forecast: It's going to announce that it has quietly DOUBLED its production capacity — to 400,000 ounces per year — and when it does, it could double your money virtually overnight!

Send for your FREE copy of Gold Stock BREAKOUT 2006 for the full story on this amazing opportunity!

Gold Juggernaut #4:
This Earnings Champ
Would Be A DOUBLE
Even If It WASN'T One
Of the Juiciest Takeover
Targets in the Entire Gold Industry!

The fourth gold play I'll introduce you to in your copy of Gold Stock BREAKOUT 2006 boasts more than 6 million ounces of proven and probable gold reserves ...

... PLUS, it controls massive tracts of extremely promising land around its principle gold property, with new exploration programs already in full swing.

This year, production is expected to jump 75% to 700,000 ounces, while cash production costs are expected to fall to $150 an ounce. No wonder consensus estimates predict that earnings will soar more than 250% in 2006!

Do you think, even for a minute, that Barrick and Newmont haven't noticed? HAH! Their takeover teams are likely already burning the midnight oil to acquire this gem of a company!

And if I'm right, and these two behemoths of the gold industry go head-to-head over this company, you can bet your bottom dollar that its share price will take off like a bat out of hell!

If I'm right (and I'm convinced that I am), the ONLY way for you to lock in your share of the expected profits is to buy this stock RIGHT NOW!

There's so much more I need to tell you about these four amazing stocks! I urge you: send for your FREE copy of Gold Stock BREAKOUT 2006 NOW!
